Maredin Wealth Advisors Bolsters Team with new Financial Advisor

MIAMI – Maredin Wealth Advisors, a growing South Florida Wealth Management Company, is announcing the addition of Paul A. Borochin, CFA, an accomplished Professor of Finance at the University of Miami, with over 15 years of financial experience, as a Financial Advisor.

At Maredin, Mr. Borochin will work closely with Marcelo Zinn, President of Maredin Wealth Advisors, to strengthen relationships with clients by providing long-term support and planning that is essential to Maredin’s approach. Mr. Borochin will also leverage his extensive knowledge regarding options and hedging strategies to further strengthen opportunities for new and existing clients.

"We are pleased to announce that Paul is joining our firm, and his desire to join us underscores our commitment to recruiting the best, most intelligent, and helpful people to assist our clients," said Marcelo Zinn, President of Maredin Wealth Advisors. "Already possessing an incredible platform and network to help our clients meet their personal and financial goals, with Paul now joining our team, the breadth and depth of our solutions just got measurably better."

"In our view, Paul’s ability to understand the markets, complex solutions, and to help people, will only benefit Maredin’s clients going forward", continues Marcelo Zinn, "his love of research and extensive knowledge of financial markets perfectly aligns with our strategy and goals."

"I am excited to leverage my research and communication skills, combined with the sophisticated processes already in place at Maredin, to drive successful outcomes for our clients" said Paul Borochin. "I’m confident that my investment philosophy and desire to help people will allow me to connect with new clients and assist Mr. Zinn in implementing some new ideas with current clients."

Professor Borochin earned a Ph.D. in Finance from the Fuqua School at Duke University and a B.S. in Finance and Statistics with minors in Mathematics and Computer Science from the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania. He is a CFA charterholder. Mr. Borochin’s robust background in research draws on information from the public markets to provide quantitative insights on future equity and option performance. His research has been covered in posts by the CFA Institute's Enterprising Investor blog, the Harvard Law School Forum on Corporate Governance and Financial Regulation, and Columbia Law School's Blue Sky Blog on Corporations and The Capital Markets.
